

Early Peace Unlikely In Coal Mine Dispute

By HAROLD W. WARD

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Sept. 22 (AP)—Chances for an early settlement of the coal strike faded today even though southern mine owners hinted they were getting ready to make up the back payments to the United Mine Workers welfare fund.

The 400,000 UMW members walked off their jobs last Monday after trustees of the welfare fund voted to halt benefit payments. The fund was threatened with a deficit even before some southern operators began withholding royalty payments on the grounds their contract with the union expired in June.

Northern and western coal operators meeting here with John L. Lewis sparred for time, watching developments in the steel dispute. Union sources said the mine owners virtually announced they would do no business until there was some clarification of the steel controversy.

The steel industry is opposing the type of pension proposed by a presidential fact-finding board financed by employers alone. The future of Lewis' pension system built on employer royalties currently at 20 cents a ton may rest on the ultimate settlement in steel.

Neither Lewis nor the operators would discuss details of their negotiations here yesterday beyond the union declaration that the operators were trying to delay the talks.

The Lewis camp gave some signs that the mine leader would use that as the basis for a blast at the operators before a weekend recess.

A prominent West Virginia operator beat the UMW leader to the punch. President D. W. Martin of the Kanawha Coal Operators association declared that Lewis, "seemingly afraid of public sentiment," had dodged responsibility for calling the strike.

Martin contended the miners were financially unprepared for the walkout. He predicted that "before the first week of the strike ends, garnishments of earned wages by the miners will be floating through the mining districts thicker than flying saucers."

Florida Ghost Town Explored

Mystery Ruins Found Deep In Everglades

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Sept. 22 (AP)—A small expedition is pushing through the grassy wastes of the Florida Everglades in search of the key that will unlock the mystery of an abandoned village about 30 miles west of here.

The little safari—traveling in two lumbering swamp buggies—is made up of L. P. Harvey, game warden; William Gill of Davis; Ed Peterson of the state game and fish commission; and three newsmen.

The group hoped to learn the fate of a rotting "ghost town" located several days ago by a private pilot, Hully Stirling.

Stirling, Gill and Harvey reported they had visited the village and found the bones of humans and animals strewn through the rotting cypress buildings. They displayed pots and brass kettles which they said were brought from the mystery town.

Several theories have been advanced as to the fate of the settlement, none of which has been substantiated.

One was that the village was founded by confederate soldiers who fled with a quantity of gold bullion at the close of the war between the states.

Another was that the settlement once was an army outpost, and all of its occupants were massacred by Seminole Indians.

Still another was that a great tropical hurricane claimed the lives of the entire community, before the storms were recorded.

An epidemic also could have wiped out the population.

Hurricanes Move Toward U. S. Coast

Two tropical storms—both of them small hurricanes—moved slowly toward American coasts today.

The first was 1,000 miles southeast of Florida in the Caribbean, and was weakening. The second was 170 miles south of Galveston, Tex., moving northwestward at about five miles an hour. Storm warnings were posted up to the Texas-Louisiana border.

But most of the nation had pleasant weather. Skies were sunny in central and western states, and cloudy in the east and upper midwest.

Light rain fell along the central gulf coast, near Lake Superior, and from Ohio northeastward to New England states.

Temperatures generally were normal for the season. They ranged from the 40's on the northern border to the 70's in the deep south. Most areas expected warmer weather.

Councilman Elected After Pledge To Quit Drinking In Public

Atlanta, Sept. 22 (AP)—Councilman Joe Allen, who has pledged himself not to drink again in public, has the Democratic nomination for another four years.

Allen yesterday defeated W. C. Campbell by approximately 3,000 votes for the second ward council seat.

He had trailed Campbell by 2,000 votes in the regular Democratic primary after a short time in the city stockade for drunken driving. Neither, however, had a majority and both had to go into a second primary. Nomination is equivalent to election.

During the run-off campaign, Allen publicly pledged himself against drinking. He sent his signed resignation from the council to the city clerk, to be effective if he ever again was convicted of drunkenness or any other offense.

Detroit Cops Set For Robeson Talk

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—Police lined up riot squads, mounted officers and tear gas details today in preparation for Negro singer Paul Robeson's appearance here Oct. 9.

Robeson will sing and speak at a point in the Negro district where the bloody 1943 race riots centered.

Blackmer Back After 25 Years Exile In Europe

Teapot Dome Scandal Memories Revived

By FRANK PITMAN

Denver, Sept. 22 (AP)—This mountain city's fabulous "child of the Gods"—80 year old Henry M. Blackmer—is expected home Sunday. After 25 years of luxurious self-imposed exile in Europe, he returns to face six federal charges of income tax evasion.

The multi-millionaire oil tycoon planned to return yesterday on a trans-Atlantic airliner. After clearing customs, he was whisked away in an automobile. Denver friends said he would fly to Chicago and board a train for Denver, arriving Sunday. He is accompanied by his second wife, Edna Novena, Norwegian soprano.

His sudden return kindled the memories of the Harding administration's teapot dome scandal. Two of Blackmer's oil associates, Edward L. Doherty and Harry Sinclair, were involved.

Blackmer slipped away to Europe in 1924 rather than testify at a congressional inquiry into the Continental Trading Company. He was a director. It was disclosed in a Cheyenne, Wyo., court that the company made $2,000,000 through a paper transaction by purchasing oil from one company and selling it to another. The profits were used to purchase Liberty bonds. Government detectives said some of the bonds were traced to Albert Fall, Secretary of the Interior in the Harding administration.

Fall was convicted of accepting a bribe of $100,000 from Doherty in the leasing of the Elk Hills Naval oil reserve, part of the Teapot Dome field. He was sentenced Nov. 1, 1929 to a year in prison and fined $100,000.

Before his exile, Blackmer became known as the "child of the Gods" for his incredible financial success. A former business associate in Denver once said: "Blackmer could make a million dollars on a desert island."

In 1927 he became a "man without a country." The U. S. government revoked his passport after several failed attempts to extradite Blackmer from France. That restricted his travels to France. But during World War II he managed to reach Geneva, Switzerland, where he lived on an estate. He returned to Paris in 1947.

Millions Come Easily
Denver knew Blackmer as a lavish spender, a financial wizard and an unobtrusive philanthropist. Born in Worcester, Mass., he followed his father in the study of law and moved to Colorado Springs in 1891. There he be-

Chinese Puzzle Up Before U. N.

Assembly Awaiting Talk By Vishinsky

By MAX HARBELSON

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—China called on the United Nations assembly today to act quickly to prevent Communism from engulfing China and the entire Far East. For the first time, China also charged that Russia was directing the Chinese Communists.

China's chief delegate, Dr. T. F. Tsiang, told the 59 National delegations that the North Atlantic pact had halted the flow of Communism across Europe, but there was no such barrier in the east.

"The Chinese Communist party," he said, "is an integral part of the International Communist movement. It is as fanatical as Communists elsewhere. Its propaganda is always in tune with Moscow propaganda. Its action is always in step with Moscow's action."

Tsiang spoke less than 24 hours after the Chinese Communists proclaimed at Peiping the establishment of a Communist peoples republic of China.

There was more than usual interest in when Andrei Vishinsky, foreign minister of the Soviet Union, would tell what Soviet Russia thinks about today's world problems. He may speak late today or tomorrow.

Philadelphia Rooming House Fire Kills 4

Philadelphia, Sept. 22 (AP)—Four persons, including two small children, were burned to death in a rooming house fire today.

The dead, all Negroes, were identified as Essie Taylor, four; Lewis Carter, two; Ann Mae Carter, 36; and James Williams, 37.

A third child, Rose Taylor, five, was burned on the arms and legs. Doctors at Hahnemann hospital listed her condition as serious.

A score of other occupants of the four-story rooming house fled as the blaze broke out on the second floor.

Steelworkers Put Off Their Walkout For Another Week

ESCANABA STEELJACK AT WORK — Bill Roman, 317 North 19th street, was snapped by a Daily Press photographer while at work on the flagpole of the Elks club. He climbed the pole to remove the ball on the top for repainting. Roman is a member of a family of steeljacks. He and his brother, John, 606 South 15th street, do "high work" all over the Upper Penin-sult. They recently raised the smokestacks at the Birds Eye Veneer company plant and have done similar jobs for other industries in the area. Their brother, Paul, is engaged in the steeljack business in Toledo, Ohio, while another brother, Oliver, who is employed at the Escanaba Paper company, sometimes works with them as a helper on steeljack jobs.

Industry Ready To Try 6 Days Of Bargaining

Pension Plan Proves Stumbling Block

Pittsburgh, Sept. 22 (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers today put off for another week their nationwide steel strike set for Saturday midnight and asked the giant United States Steel corporation to resume contract talks tomorrow morning.

The union's policy committee joined industry in agreeing to accept President Truman's request for: (1) extension of the strike truce until 12:01 a. m., Saturday, October 1, and (2) quick resumption of bargaining.

Within an hour, the steelworkers proposed to renew contract talks with "big steel" at 9:30 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, tomorrow in Pittsburgh. No immediate answer was available.

Murray had refused to go back to the conference table until industry accepted the peace formula of Mr. Truman's fact finders.

The action came as wildcat walkouts shut down two Pittsburgh steel plants and idled 2400 workers. Pickets carried signs demanding "strike—no more extension," and "strike—free pensions."

Murray and the industry deadlocked on acceptance of a presidential board's peace recommendations that the steelworkers get company financed insurance and pensions. The union accepted. Industry objected to footing the bill and refused to be bound by the report without bargaining. They've been fueding since.

Early Action Promised

Mr. Truman intervened to stave off the weekend strike. In addition to truce extension, he called for direct bargaining and early settlement.

Murray announced the union wage policy committee approval of the extension. He said:

"The only thing I have to add is that we are contacting the various companies and we hope to meet with the (U. S. Steel) corporation tomorrow."

The action was taken in a resolution unanimously adopted by the committee. The resolution stated:

"The action was taken in a resolution unanimously adopted by the committee. The resolution stated:

"The public interest requires and the American people have a right to expect an early settlement on the part of the steel companies on the basis of the board recommendation."

The two and a half hour session of the wage policy committee broke up with the 170 members standing on their feet to cheer Murray.

Mr. Truman's action yesterday followed efforts of Cyrus Ching, government mediation chief, to get company and union negotiators bargaining again.

The main stumbling block to resumption of negotiations has been Murray's insistence the industry accept the board's recommendation as a basis for settlement before the union would open bargaining sessions. This is the-

Dope Smuggled In State Prison

Kansas Health Board Member Accused

Junction City, Kas., Sept. 22 (AP)—A Kansas board of health member was accused today of supplying narcotics smuggled to the Colorado state penitentiary.

The board of health member is Dr. Hugh A. Hope. Federal agents arrested him yesterday at his drug store in Hunter, Kas.

The physician has been active in Kansas Republican circles for many years. He was a delegate to the GOP national convention last year and was featured on a radio network as a typical American delegate.

Hope was charged specifically with selling narcotics to two agents posing as underworld men.

Last week Roy Best, Colorado prison warden, reported a ring supplying convicts with narcotics, money and benzidine had been broken up. Two prisoners were placed in solitary confinement and a guard was charged with smuggling drugs into the penitentiary.

Terry A. Talent, supervisor of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics office at Denver, said Hope admitted orally he sold the drugs to the two undercover agents.

Ann Arbor Boy, 11, Who Beat Playmate Gets Mental Tests

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 22 (AP)—John Schiller, 11, who brutally attacked a young playmate in Port Huron, was given a psychiatric examination at University Hospital yesterday.

Hospital authorities refused to disclose the findings.

John told police on Sept. 12 that he beat and slashed four-year-old Michael Lyon because God told him to. Michael is recovering from the injuries.

Big Job Ahead For 1950 Ice Revue

THE plan to widen the scope of the sponsorship of the Escanaba ice revue should receive a welcome response from all local civic and service organizations. The ice revue is a civic undertaking of tremendous magnitude. Complete success of the enterprise requires generous cooperation of many people and the united support of the entire community.

The value of the ice revue to Escanaba has been proved many times over. The community has become famed for the quality of its ice show. A half dozen local skaters, who got their start as performers in the ice revue, have made the grade in the big time and are now playing with professional troupes.

The Escanaba Figure Skating club did a remarkable job in developing and staging the ice revues of recent years. Last season, however, the club found the burden too heavy for its comparatively small membership to carry and the recreation department stepped in to promote the show, with the help of many local civic-minded folks and the skating club.

This season it planned to broaden the base of the sponsorship and to encourage all local clubs and groups to pitch in and help. An organization meeting is planned within the next two or three weeks, after which the actual work of preparing for the 1950 show will begin.

The success of this plan is essential to perpetuation of a local project that has placed Escanaba far in the lead as the ice skating center of the north.

Slingshots New Menace In Escanaba

A sudden outbreak of slingshot sharpshooters has been reported in Escanaba, requiring a quick crusade by parents to quell the youthful marksmen.

Disturbances were first reported at local theaters where patrons were pelted by paper staples, paper clips, etc. Then the barrage occurred again at the Escanaba-Ironwood football game last weekend. This week a child was struck in the arm by a paper staple fired from a neighbor's slingshot. The Public Forum column today contains a letter from the mother of an injured child.

The slingshot weapon is even more of a menace than air rifles, particularly when such things as wire staples are used for ammunition. If any person is struck in the eye with a pellet of this kind, fired from a slingshot, it's a certainty that the victim will lose the sight of that and probably the eye itself.

The menace of slingshot sharpshooters cannot be coped with effectively by police alone. The situation calls for prompt action by parents, who must confiscate slingshots in the hands of their children and who must certainly explain the extreme dangers that lie in the use of this weapon. Teachers can help, too, with an educational campaign that calls attention to the hazards of slingshot rifles.

Evading The Travel Excise Tax

TAX collectors are trying to discourage U. S. citizens from buying plane, bus and train tickets in Canada and Mexico to escape the federal government's 15 per cent personal transportation tax. A ruling has been issued that sending money across the borders to buy tickets is the same as making a purchase in the U. S. Therefore, says the bureau, the transaction is subject to the excise tax.

There's a big question, however, whether there is any practical way to enforce this decision. And sending the money, and taking it over one's self, are two different things. Canada and Mexico have no transport taxes. Canada having repealed hers earlier this year. Ticket agents and prospective travelers quickly saw that they could evade the U. S. tax by going or sending to Canada to get tickets for travel anywhere in the U. S. A thriving business has sprung up along the Canadian border.

The fact is that the U. S. cannot levy the tax on sales made in other countries. Such transactions are strictly legal. There is a further advantage to U. S. citizens in that they can exchange American dollars for Canadian at the border, making a profit on the deal. On a $50 or $100 trip, the saving in these two factors is appreciable.

American authorities have looked with a lenient and friendly eye on spendings in Canada by U. S. citizens. Such spendings have materially helped the Dominion to get on its financial feet following the war, and it is expected that the tax collector isn't going to bear down too hard on the present situation.

The Peach Market Is Down For A Change

PROBABLY more peaches will go into cans and glass this summer and fall than in a good many years. The trees have been heavily laden everywhere and quality has been tops. Ripening was slower this season than usual because of the heavy foliage on many trees.

Michigan peaches, grown as far north as peaches can be successfully grown, are for that reason among the very best in the land. The Georgia crop began to mature about a month ago. Arkansas has become a very heavy grower of fine peaches, and the largest peach orchard in the country—probably in the entire world, said to cover 1,100 acres—is located near Little Rock.

Missouri and southern Illinois have astonishingly large peach tree belts. Michigan orchard growers are showing fine production this year, but are a little disappointed at the slow demand that has developed. Some growers have been considering letting the balance of their crop remain on the trees rather than go to the expense of harvesting it.

The market opened in Lower Michigan at $2.50 a bushel, against $4 last year, and the price stayed at the latter figure for a good part of the season. It is believed that housewives' shelves are bare of peaches this year, and that thousands of women will be availing themselves of present low prices to stock up for the winter. Many canners are also planning larger programs at present prices.

The quality generally has never been better, but the idea is growing that housewives are getting away from home canning, preferring to buy only a few pounds of peaches at a time instead of by the bushel, and serving canned peaches in the winter season.

40-HOUR WEEK ON THE RAILROADS (Green Bay Press-Gazette)

A work week of 40 hours went into operation for a million railroad employees that are in the non-operating phase of the industry. It supplants a 48-hour week with no loss in pay.

Our own opinion is that this reform was overdue. But radical alterations of this kind cannot take place without some realignments that make for abrasions and sometimes temporarily deep wounds.

The cost of this alteration to the railroads is estimated at approximately $640,000,000 a year. That, unfortunately, is a facet at which most of us do not care to look. We like to increase the cost of telegrams, of electric service, of freight and passenger service but somehow we wail, and sometimes we shriek, because in doing justice to some workers other workers are required to contribute.

A four per cent general freight rate increase was put in operation the same day the work week of non-operating employees was shortened. This four per cent freight rate increase, which is a sales tax, is estimated to add less than $300,000,000 a year to railroad revenues.

What the railroads need perhaps as much as the increase granted them is a steady government at Washington which in turn will bring them a steady flow of business. For what does it profit a railroad to have its rates increased if it does not secure the freight upon which the rates are based?

Many of the railroads of the country are in an unhappy condition because they are operating at a loss. And because their competition is so keen from many points of the compass they are closing numerous smaller passenger and freight stations throughout the country. This in turn will cause some of the inconvenience that always manifests itself when alterations of a sizable nature take place. But these abandonments of small stations, while not always to be justified merely because such stations are operated at a loss, must generally be recognized as fair and just when that loss is out of proportion and there is no promise down the future that it can be eliminated.

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC STRIKE (Grand Rapids Press)

Friday afternoon 5,000 operating employees of the Missouri Pacific railroad went on strike. Their walkout forced the layoff of 20,000 non-striking employees. The welfare of thousands of other persons in 10 states is threatened because scores of industries depend on Missouri Pacific service. The question of wages is not involved. The trainmen are striking in an effort to collect $3,000,000 for what has been labeled a "bundle of grievances."

Even a short strike will easily cost the railroad's employees more than that. But from the outset the striking brotherhoods seemed intent on brushing aside any consideration which might get in the way of a strike. The Missouri Pacific management suggested arbitration and agreed to be bound by it. The unions said no. Numerous pleas from civic and industrial leaders failed to deter the strike-minded brotherhoods.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch accurately summed up the situation when it said that "the strike will lend comfort to union's labor critics and enemies." It noted, too, that the Missouri Pacific is "technically bankrupt" and therefore is likely to feel the effects of the strike acutely.

This, then, is a strike against almost everybody—against the railroad, against the people of 10 states and against common sense. Double the amount the strikers are asking to settle the disputes over operating rules wouldn't cover what they are losing in good will and wages.

Crucial Week For Industry

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—This is a crucial week for American industry. All the signs point to an upturn in business and employment. But strikes in coal and steel can reverse this trend and revive the symptoms of recession or worse.

In the negotiations between the Steelworkers' Union and the steel companies is a hope—albeit a frail hope—for sanity and stability, a reasonable outcome of the steel dispute reached through an orderly process would afford a striking contrast to the mess in the coal industry.

That mess is largely the result of the high-handed power politics indulged in by John L. Lewis, the authoritarian boss of the United Mine Workers' Union. The so-called pension system that Lewis has enforced on the coal industry is a beautiful example of how not to establish a system of benefits for union workers.

MINERS' FUND IN RED
It has never been worked out on any sound actuarial bases. Flagrant abuses have already put the miners' fund in the red. There are reports of discrimination and injustice.

Lewis is one of the three trustees of the pension fund. A second trustee, Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, paid a salary of $35,000 a year, almost invariably votes with Lewis, which means that Lewis controls the fund.

But if Lewis is largely to blame for the condition of near anarchy that prevails, the steel executives must also take some responsibility. They agreed to Lewis' pension terms when he was bargaining for the workers in the captive mines owned and operated by the steel companies.

Under those terms the companies pay all the old-age pension of $150 a month. Having agreed to this only a few months ago, the company executives now come in and say that they are, in principle, opposed to any pension plan to which the workers do not contribute as well as the company.

Surely, it should be possible short of a strike to negotiate a decent and workable pension and social insurance system. Perhaps a study would show that one reason the miners' pension plan is unworkable is the fact that it is entirely financed by the companies.

Conceivably this could make for abuse and irresponsibility. An impartial study such as that proposed by the president's fact-finding board would throw light on this and related questions.

AVERAGE CITIZEN'S VIEW
The average citizen looking on is bound to wonder why in such a rich and profitable industry reasonable compromise is not possible. The companies have made extraordinary high profits. The workers are paid relatively high wages. It would seem that just a small degree of adjustment should prevent a senseless fight over who gets what; a fight likely to hurt millions who have no direct connection with the steel industry.

Some companies in other industries have successfully undertaken profit-sharing plans under which their employees share the gains of the owners. It may be that some such step, and it would be a comparatively short step, holds the key to another advance toward industrial peace.

The recommendations of the steel fact-finding board have been well received. The consensus of opinion is that the board did a thorough investigation and on the basis of that exhaustive inquiry made proposals that were in the interest of the general welfare and not just one or another segment of the industry.

The union's request for a fourth-round wage increase was flatly rejected. This was a bitter pill to swallow. Philip Murray, the union head, took it with as good a grace as possible, emphasizing the pension and social insurance provisions recommended by the board.

There is nothing that compels the companies to accept these recommendations. But the weight of public opinion would seem at this point to be on the union side. And merely fulminating against the board and the fact-finding technique is not enough. In the final outcome far too much is at stake to tolerate recrimination and emotionalism.

Now note that in "sleight of hand" the first word is not "sleight," it's "sleight," an obsolete Middle English word that means, "skill; dexterity; cunning; craft." The word "sleight" rarely occurs in Modern English except in the phrase "sleight of hand."

There is still another word for prestidigitator or sleight of hand. The word is legerdemain, pronounced LEDGE-er-duh-MAIN. It means, "sleight of hand; trickery; deception; any artful trick." Legerdemain is a Middle English word formed from the French phrase leger de main, "lightness of hand."

One skilled in legerdemain may also be called a juggler, for the original meaning of juggler was "one who amuses people by tricks of illusion and sleight of hand." Juggler entered Middle English through the French from the Latin jocolator, "a jester or joker."

Jocolator stems in the Latin jocus, "a jest," the same word that gives us the English words joke, jocular, and jewel. A jewel originally was a toy, a trinket, a plaything.

Aside to Drew Pearson. You may not believe it, Drew, but you may correctly be called a soothsayer. Sooth is from the Anglo-Saxon word sooth, meaning "real; genuine; truth." The dictionary defines soothsayer as: "One who soothsays or foretells events; one who makes an art or practice of making predictions."

Do you have difficulty in using the words CAN-SHOULD and MAY-MIGHT. If so, Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-21, will help you. For a copy, send 5c in coin, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to him, care of Escanaba Daily Press, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

"Better Find Permanent Shelter, John, but Quick!"

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

SHE LIKES IT—The other day we had the pleasure of meeting an energetic young woman, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Beard, who has just completed a study of the relationship of beaver to waterfowl.

Dunathan

past three summers, has been biologist at the Seney Wildlife Refuge; and that beaver build dams that impound water, making ideal habitat for nesting and feeding ducks.

Mrs. Beard has now returned to Ann Arbor, where she is research assistant in the forestry school at the University of Michigan. She quite frankly said that she is sorry the summer is over and that she must leave the Wildlife Refuge.

HER WORK—"I love the Upper Peninsula," she said. "There's no place like it."

She has enjoyed her work so much at the Wildlife Refuge that she sparkles when she speaks of it.

She is sorry that she is not to come back to the Refuge again another year, for she is to be reassigned—perhaps to one of the prairie states.

"But I'll welcome new experiences, no matter where."

AT THE UNIVERSITY—Mrs. Beard received her Master of Science degree at University of Michigan forestry school in 1946 and the following year began her summertime study as biologist at Seney.

At the University she is assistant in research at the forestry school and is co-author, with Dr. Warren W. Chase, head of the wildlife management department of "Teaching Aids in Wildlife Management."

AND AT SENEY—Summer seasons as biologist at Seney Wildlife Refuge, a 96,000-acre tract dedicated to the protection and propagation of wildlife, were busy times for Mrs. Beard. Banding waterfowl, making observations of wildlife, keeping notes and correlating information assembled in field studies, are not jobs for softies. There are mosquitoes and other insect pests to contend with and wildlife is notable for its choice of inaccessible habitat—particularly nesting waterfowl.

For three summers Mrs. Beard sloshed around in beaver pond areas, observing how the beaver worked and whether the ducks and other waterfowl liked the ponds the beaver built. Her conclusion is that ducks like beaver ponds and that beaver in the Wildlife Refuge should be so managed that they will build as many dams as possible.

That is a very brief and inadequate summary of her conclusions to be incorporated in a report following the completion of her work at the Refuge.

It is important for several rea-

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. Michael Banik and children, Donald and Phyllis, left for their home in Whiting, Ind., after spending two weeks visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Solar. Mrs. Banik is the former Mary Solar of this city.

Nahma—Miss Shirley DeRosier of Nahma and Gordon Caswell of Rapid River are new teachers in the Nahma school system this year.

Escanaba—James L'Heureux was elected president of the high school unit of St. Patrick's C. Y. O. at a meeting Wednesday evening. James was formerly treasurer of the unit.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Mrs. Harry Wilson of Appleton, Wis., Mrs. J. D. LeGault of Green Bay and Mrs. Peter Sjoren of Menominee spent this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Legault, South 8th street.

Gladstone—Miss Blanche Mathison left last night for Cincinnati where she has taken a position. She will also attend the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, taking a special study course.

Rapid River—Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Buchman have returned to their home in Elgin, Ill., after having visited at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Buchman and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sobesky.

sons and the information it contains may influence wildlife management—so far as it relates to beaver and waterfowl. The result could mean additional ducks in the years ahead.

NOT HER'S ALONE—After reading the above you might think that Mrs. Beard was the only person at Seney Wildlife Refuge. Such is not the case. In fact there are several others and there have been more.

C. J. Henry is the present refuge manager, succeeding the late Clarence S. Johnson, who was recently killed in an airplane crash in the West where he was transferred. It was under Johnson's supervision, "inspired supervision," Mrs. Beard calls it, that the big Wildlife Refuge was developed over a ten-year period.

Nothing we have written is intended to minimize the important contributions made by these men and others at the Refuge. It is only that the study made by Mrs. Beard is in a special field, and of particular interest. Besides this, she is a woman working in a field generally regarded as belonging to men.

COMING BACK—Mrs. Beard has a date in the Upper Peninsula this coming November. She is coming back to go deer hunting. Not a sentimentalist, Mrs. Beard realizes that the game birds and animals raised at the Refuge become legal game for hunters when the season opens. She also likes to hunt grouse and sharpshooters.

Last hunting season she wounded a big buck, trailed him and was almost upon the quarry when another hunter knocked the buck down and claimed him as his own.

She likes the Upper Peninsula so well that last February, when snows were deep, she returned for a "vacation" stay of a week at her little cabin at the Refuge. Her enthusiasm for the country north of the Straits is deep and sincere.

Slingshot Menace

Dear Editor:

A few years ago we moved from Detroit to Escanaba, mainly so our children could benefit from the better climate, and other advantages of being reared in a small city. Maybe we made a mistake. I feel safer in Detroit.

This evening we rushed our small son to a doctor—a nail shot from one of those vicious sling guns pierced a vein in his wrist. (We always considered the boy who did it, a pretty nice kid.)

Earlier this summer, one of the speed maniacs who raced through alleys at night came through our alley, and my children woke up screaming with terror. One afternoon a similar potential killer roared through our alley, within two feet of a line of five small children who had been running around the house. That one really scared me.

We live within two blocks of the police station. The police, however, are not to blame, particularly. The real danger lies in the complacency of Escanaba people. I've watched drivers almost knock down the "no turn" sign at the 11th street and Ludington intersection while they were making forbidden turns. I've crossed busy streets not only in Detroit, but in Chicago and Los Angeles, and points between, and none frightened me like the 10th and Ludington intersection. There are a few others, too. These crazy drivers are no doubt the solid citizens and taxpayers. They aren't afraid of the law because the toughness of the local police depends on the citizens behind it, and here they just don't give a darn.

In large cities, law violators are considered hoodlums, and treated as such. The police are tough. Also, the law abiding citizen who has been injured or victimized can be pretty sure that the law is on his side and working for him. These "tough cops" direct traffic, too, especially near schools, and I've seen many who were smiling, courteous, and friendly—but tough on violators.

We need "city style" police—and "city style" punishment for law breakers. One thing I'd like to be old-fashioned about—public whipping for speeders, especially those within the city limits, school zones, or school bus stops. I'd even do the whipping myself.

Frightened Mother.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington.—British economic Czar Sir Stafford Cripps and Foreign Minister Bevin attended a National Press Club luncheon while in Washington where Cripps, who controls Britain's economy with a vice-like grip, told in detail of British sacrifices because of the dollar shortage.

"Just to give you an example of the sacrifices we are making," said Cripps, "both Mr. Bevin and I have given up tobacco as our part of the program to save dollars."

Whereupon Bevin, turning to his luncheon companion, whispered:

PEARSON "That's not the case at all. The fact is I gave up smoking because I couldn't stand the bloody awful tobacco Cripps has been buying."

NOTE—In order to save dollars the British have been partly shunning North Carolina tobacco and turning to their African colonies.

CAPITAL NEWS CAPSULES

G. O. P. Blocks Civil Rights—It wasn't a Southern Democrat but a Mid-west Republican who stopped the Senate labor committee from approving the fair employment practices bill behind closed doors. This is the most controversial measure in President Truman's Civil Rights program. But the vote was blocked on a technicality by G. O. P. Senator Donnell from the president's home state—Missouri.

Atlantic Defense—The state department has called a highly secret meeting of the joint chiefs of staff of the twelve countries in the North Atlantic Pact. They will meet in Washington the last week in September.

Food for Democratic Countries—The food and agricultural branch of the United Nations is setting up an important organization to sell surplus American farm products to the undernourished countries of Western Europe and India. The plan should benefit both American farmers and Democratic countries, and the experts claim they have worked out a plan to lick the toughest problem in international trade—the dollar shortage.

SENATORIAL SPECULATOR
It looks as if Senator Thomas' speculating partner, Dyke Cullum, has diverse and widespread interests.

Last week it was revealed that Cullum, who frequently claims to represent Thomas, had bought ten carloads of egg futures at the same time that the senator from Oklahoma had introduced legislation taking the support price off of eggs. Senator Thomas and Cullum have used a joint trading account on the commodity exchange in the past.

Now, in addition to eggs, it develops that Cullum has been pulling wires with the agriculture department regarding land.

Cullum's influence in agricultural matters results from the fact that Thomas, as chairman of the senate agriculture committee, can block or pass most farm legislation.

Therefore, when Cullum, who helps the senator write legislation, demands inside information from the agriculture department, agriculture officials can't tell whether they are giving it for legislative purposes or for speculative purposes. Naturally, inside knowledge of government purchases and price supports could be used to make big profits on the commodity market.

IS SENATOR IN LARD

Last month, Cullum began pestering the agriculture department to support land prices. Naturally, such support would cause a spectacular jump in land prices.

The agriculture department, however, has adopted a policy of supporting only agricultural products, not by-products. A support price for a by-product such as lard, it feels, would not help farmers, but the meat packers.

Nevertheless, Cullum phoned George Parks in the fats and oils branch in the name of Senator Thomas and demanded a price support for lard. Parks promised a written reply, and when it didn't come fast enough, Cullum made two phone calls to David Pettus in the livestock branch for information on price supports. Again he suggested that the government buy lard. Each time he represented himself as speaking for Senator Thomas and the senate agriculture committee.

As a result of Cullum's activity, the agriculture department finally sent an official letter to Senator Thomas, dated Aug. 24, in which it made pointed reference to Cullum's queries. The letter began:

"This is in reply to a recent telephone request from Mr. Dyke Cullum to the fats and oils branch for information regarding the calculation of a parity price for lard. As you know, the parity price concept heretofore has applied only to direct agricultural commodities sold by farmers. It has not applied to products such as fats and oils which are processed from agricultural products and sold by processors."

Last year the senate expenditures subcommittee under Ferguson of Michigan started to probe the flagrant speculating of Senator Thomas and his weird link with Cullum. Investigators actually raided Cullum's office, whereupon Thomas threatened to expose some of Senator Ferguson's connections in Michigan and the probe was suddenly dropped.

Army's Only 4-Jet Bomber In Service Still On Hush List

Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., Sept. 22 (AP)—The United States' only jet bomber now in regular service will make its first appearance in a joint exercise with ground troops here next month.

The 500 mile per hour plus B-45 Tornado, called a light bomber but packing a 10-ton bomb load, will take part in a demonstration of air-ground co-operation for 3,000 service school students.

In cautiously taking the wraps off the four jet B-45, military leaders will give the service school groups a glimpse of a warplane designed for everything from low level attacks to high speed bombing at 40,000 feet.

Pilots of these hot new ships are cautious in talking about them. Much of the data about their equipment and performance are on the classified list.

It's not permitted to discuss their armament, or to allow unauthorized persons to inspect their interior.

Way Cleared For Suit On Kunzig Ouster By Liquor Commission

Lansing, Sept. 22 (AP)—The State civil service and liquor control commission exchanged formalities yesterday and cleared the way for a court suit over Louis A. Kunzig's ouster as Liquor Commission director.

The civil service commission served the liquor agency with a formal notice to reinstate Kunzig and the liquor commission ignored it. The sole Republican liquor commissioner, Harry Henderson, moved that the commission comply with the order but the two Democratic members refused to second his motion.

Instead, chairman John J. Kozaren said he would repeat his request to the civil service commission for a transcript of the Kunzig ouster hearing testimony so that he could "appraise the civil service commission's position."

Kunzig, a retired army officer, was fired by the two Democrats in July while Henderson cried "politics."

Wife Of Morgenthau Dies In New York After Long Illness

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., wife of the former Secretary of the Treasury and a niece of former New York Governor Herbert H. Lehman, died yesterday. She was 57.

Mrs. Morgenthau, a close friend of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, died at New York hospital where she had been under treatment for a liver ailment since Aug. 31. She had been ill a long time. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

Her husband, who also was in the hospital for a slight heart ailment, was at her bedside when she died. Also there were their three children, Henry, 3rd, Robert, and Dr. Joan Elizabeth Morgenthau.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgenthau had an apartment here, but spent most of their time at their farm home, at Fishkill (Dutchess county), N. Y.

Parking Meter Slugs Lose Job For Detroit City Tax Collector

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—A city tax collector was suspended from his job today on a charge of putting slugs in a parking meter. A traffic patrolman arrested him yesterday.

Detective Lt. Harry Michaels said the collector, Edward Temple, 45, admitted using slugs in a meter near the city hall. The detective said Temple explained he 15 or 20 stops a day on city business and is not reimbursed for meter fees.

Temple is employed by the treasurer's office which collects the money from parking meters. He is a personal property tax collector.

Young Miners Trapped In Pikeville, Ky. Pit; Rescue Hopes Dim

Pikeville, Ky., Sept. 22 (AP)—With waning hopes, rescue workers pushed forward their search today to find two youthful miners believed lost in the crumbling tunnels of an old coal mine.

Rescue workers said they would take bloodhounds into the pit today to try to track down Marvin Johnson, 20, and his cousin, 19-year-old George Johnson of Three Mile, Ky.

No trace of them has been reported since they went into the mine early Tuesday afternoon. They had been working with their fathers, Tom Johnson and George Johnson, Sr. The mine recently was reopened after a 14-month shutdown.

The cousins went into the mine after dynamiting to loosen the coal. Their fathers called to them later but received no response.

Florida Mother Ends Wheelbarrow Jaunt In Detroit

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—You could almost hear Mrs. Julia St. Clair's "wheew!" of relief as she parked her wheelbarrow into the lobby of a Detroit hotel (The Tully).

She had just finished trundling the one-wheel cart, bearing her crippled seven-year-old son, Dolphy, all the way from Jacksonville, Fla. That's 1,500 foot-sore miles distant.

Besides, her reception Wednesday in Detroit was not too hospitable. Two hotels (Book-Cadillac and Statler) earlier had refused her room, and she had traffic problems.

As she pushed the wheelbarrow through Detroit's streets police officers ordered her to get over on the sidewalk. Cars were lined up for several blocks in back of the slowly plodding "Miss Hungary of 1918."

"I don't feel at home on the sidewalk," she complained, observing that it was the first time she had ever received such an order. Dolphy cracked his bubble-gum angrily.

State Parks Shabby, Need Improvements

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—Many state parks in Michigan are "literally worn out" for lack of improvements, the American Institute of Park Executives was told yesterday.

"In some, there is little or no grass," Arthur C. Elmer, chief of the division of parks and recreation of the Michigan department of conservation, declared in a speech to the institute.

Elmer said 12,000,000 persons last year made use of the 150,000 acres of park area operated by the state. He said the division's budget of $991,000 for the present fiscal year was inadequate to permit capital improvements.

Blackmer Returns From Paris Exile; Teapot Dome Echo

came district attorney. But the role of small town lawyer didn't appeal to him. He moved to Denver where his political and financial climb was rapid.

His first wife was Lucy Carter, daughter of a widely known patent medicine manufacturer.

By 1900 he had amassed a fortune in mining and railroad ventures. He expanded his operations to petroleum and became vice president of the Midwest Oil Co., which was developing the Salt Creek oil field in Wyoming. It is not far from Teapot Dome.

Through shrewd operations, he succeeded in affiliating his firm with the Standard Oil company of Indiana. The company expanded rapidly and he was its president until he fled to France.

Blackmer's tax troubles mirror his vast wealth. In 1932, while in exile, he paid the Treasury department $670,784 in income taxes allegedly unreported. That action settled a civil suit for back taxes in the years 1920 through 1923. Also in 1932, he paid $60,000 fines on two contempt of court charges for refusing to answer subpoenas.

Years for Denver
Still on file against him are criminal charges of perjury and income tax evasion returned by a Federal grand jury in Denver in 1928. He is expected to appear in Federal court next Monday or Tuesday to enter a plea.

Despite the continental splendor of his exile, friends say Blackmer has yearned to return to Denver. During overseas sojourn, his son, Myron, and daughter, Mrs. Erle Kistler, both of Denver, visited him frequently.

They took along movies that showed the growth of the city he calls home and the Blackmer properties amassed by his fortune. That heightened his desire to return.

His attorneys have been negotiating several months with the Justice Department to arrange his return. After he had agreed to plead to the income tax charges, a passport was granted.

To a Boston immigration inspector yesterday Blackmer was "just another passenger." His credentials were in order.

Railway Issues Lead Rising Stock Market

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Railway stocks steamed in front of a rising market today.

Carrying through yesterday's strong forward thrust ahead, the market generally moved up fractions to around a point.

Utility issues grabbed the trading ball for a while in the morning but later railroads splashed all over the ticker tape.

Business tended to expand when buying interest veered to the rail section. Turnover was again at a rate in excess of 1,000,000 shares for the full session.

Visits Escanaba—Atty. Wendell Lund of Washington, D. C., is visiting friends in Escanaba today while enroute home from a business trip to the west coast.

Forget-Me-Not's—Friday and Saturday of this week, Sept. 23 and 24 have been proclaimed by Mayor Robert E. LeMire as Forget-Me-Not Days, at which the sale of such flowers will be conducted in Escanaba upon behalf of the Disabled American Veterans welfare and rehabilitation program.

Derouin, 306 North 12th street, left last night for Fort Bliss, El Paso, Texas, to complete seven months of training remaining in his three-year enlistment in the U. S. Army. Previously, Derouin served seven months in Hawaii and 16 months in Alaska and has just completed a 30-day furlough at his home here.

George D. Green, regional auditor of the U. S. Forest Service, Milwaukee, is spending the week in the Upper Michigan National forest. He was scheduled to return to Escanaba tonight from the Raco district.

Arson Possibility Investigated In Noronic Disaster
Toronto, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Toronto Star said today a secret inquiry at the Ontario fire marshal's office is investigating the possibility of arson in connection with last Saturday's fire aboard the cruise steamer Noronic. At least 132 persons lost their lives in the tragedy.

The Star said at least two crew members of the Canada Steamship Lines vessel had not been located by investigators.

Air Secretary Asked To Appear In Person At B-38 Bomber Quiz
Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—A special Navy court insisted today that Air Secretary Symington appear in person to answer questions connected with the B-36 bomber investigation.

Admiral Thomas C. Kinkaid instructed the court's attorney, Capt. Sanford Wood, "to inform Mr. Symington his physical presence is needed before the court."

The tug of war between the Air Force and the Navy developed after Wood read to the court a memorandum from Symington saying he would be willing to supply answers to questions submitted to him by the court in writing.

World War Veterans To Banquet Tuesday In Legion Club Hall

The second annual "Appreciation Banquet" sponsored by veterans of World War II in honor of those who served in World War I will be held in American Legion club rooms in Escanaba Tuesday evening, Sept. 27. Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock.

Tony Flynn, announcer for station WDBC, will be spokesman on behalf of the younger veterans at a brief ceremony following the dinner. Last year the "Appreciation Banquet" was so successful that it was decided to make it an annual affair.

Steward Ted Henry of the Legion has requested all Legionnaires to obtain their tickets at Legion club rooms by Saturday of this week, so that final arrangements for the banquet can be completed.

Texas Gasoline Blast Injures 6; Plant Burns Out

Borger, Tex., Sept. 22 (AP)—Officials of Phillips Petroleum company waited for a fire to burn itself out in a gasoline plant today before checking damage from a terrific explosion which injured six men.

The blast, which shook the area, occurred late yesterday afternoon. It was followed by fire in two catalytic units and two propane gas tanks.

The fire was brought under control by nightfall but no one will enter the plant until fire is out in the gas pipes.

None of the injured was in a serious condition.

Governor Promises Apple Growers Help To Market Big Crop

Lansing, Sept. 22 (AP)—Michigan apple growers, faced with a record crop of more than 11,000,000 bushels, appealed to Governor Williams for help yesterday and got a promise of full state assistance.

But Williams told the group it would have to decide for itself whether it wanted his help in getting the federal surplus commodity corporation to buy some Michigan apples or in conducting a full-dress promotional campaign locally.

Growers appeared to be divided on that question. Some said they feared an appeal to the federal government would mark the crop as distressed and affect the already-low price adversely.

Williams secured from the state department of agriculture a promise to cooperate in providing $4,000 for additional apple advertising and promised the state's aid in any promotional campaign.

The court, investigating the background of the once-anonymous document which touched off congressional hearings on the B-36 program, requested yesterday that Symington appear today as a witness.

Industry Agrees To Dicker Again On Steel Pension

dustry has steadfastly refused to do.

The board turned down the union's request for a fourth wage boost since the end of World War II. But it proposed the industry finance an insurance-pension plan which would cost 10 cents per man per hour.

Both Win Point
If the companies accept the board's recommendation, Murray contends this means acceptance of the principle that any insurance-pension scheme eventually worked out be paid for entirely by the employers.

The major steel companies have insisted they will go along on a contributory pension plan—but not one which called on them to foot the entire bill.

Beth Murray and the industry assert they won a point in Mr. Truman's latest requests.

The president had strong praise for the recommendations of his board, terming them as "statesmanlike formula for fair and equitable settlement" of the dispute. And the president went on to say he is in "fullest agreement with the board's opinion its recommendations 'form a suitable basis' on which a settlement can be reached."

"I believe the president's statement is a complete vindication of the steelworkers' position," Murray declared.

And industry spokesman said the president's request for bargaining upholds their position—they want to bargain but without agreeing to accept the board's recommendations. "The board was merely an investigative body—its recommendations are not binding."

POTATO HARVEST ON

Potoskey, Sept. 22 (AP)—Emmet county's half-million dollar potato harvest was underway today, with the estimated crop of 350,000 bushels "just about average." The harvest is expected to be completed by Oct. 25.

Nash Cuts New Car Price $73 To $140

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—Nash Motors today announced price reductions ranging from $73 to $140.

The reductions apply to the company's new 1950 model cars which go on display in dealer showrooms tomorrow.

The cuts are possible, George W. Mason, president and board chairman of Nash-Kelvinator Corp. said, largely because of reduced production costs resulting from a freer flow of materials.

Deaf Mute Padlocked In Room 25 Years

Seattle, Sept. 22 (AP)—A middle aged deaf mute was found padlocked in a room yesterday and officers said she had been kept there most of the time for 25 years.

Two King county deputies discovered the 49-year-old woman, Nellie E. Neal, when they went to the West Seattle home on another matter.

They said that the door to the room was covered by a heavy wire screen. A bed was the only article of furniture.

Prosecuting Attorney Charles O. Carroll filed a petition in court for commitment of the long imprisoned daughter to a hospital for the insane. She was transferred to the county hospital over the protests of her 74-year-old mother, Mrs. Geraldine Baker, who begged officers:

"Leave her 'til I die. It won't be long."

Dr. Keyes In Ring

Grand Rapids, Sept. 22 (AP)—A little meeting here yesterday was described by friends of Dr. Eugene Keyes of Dearborn as launching his campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination next year.

Former lieutenant governor Keyes was luncheon guest of Dr. W. A. Chipman of Detroit and 25 other delegates to the State Medical Society convention.

Dr. Chipman, and Dr. L. J. Gariepy, also of Detroit, said that Physician-dentist-lawyer Keyes definitely would be a candidate.

Stephenson P. T. A. Studies Buildings

The Stephenson P. T. A. honored the school faculty at a banquet held in the school gymnasium Wednesday evening. Approximately 150 persons were in attendance.

Joseph B. Gueky, local school superintendent, discussed school building needs as revealed from the probable enrollment figures for the years ahead. The problem of relieving the overcrowded situation in the elementary was thoroughly discussed and many suggestions were afforded.

Most persons felt that temporary quarters should be provided now for the elementary grades and that consideration be given to the construction of a new school addition.

The P. T. A. passed a resolution requesting that the board of education appoint a Citizens Ed-

Powers Weekly Changes Hands

Newspaper Resumes Publication Sept. 30

The Powers-Spaulding Tribune, which suspended publication in June, will resume publication next week, it has been announced.

The newspaper has been purchased by Peter Asp, a native of Escanaba. Mr. Asp has been employed by the Birmingham, Mich., Eccentric for the past several years but previously was a member of the Escanaba Daily Press composing staff for a number of years.

The first issue of the paper under its new ownership will be distributed on Friday, Sept. 30. The paper was published for several years by Edmund and Stanley Erickson, who acquired the property from Charles Quade.

Mr. Asp has reported that the plant will offer a complete job printing service in addition to the publication of the weekly newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. Asp and family will reside in Powers when housing accommodations are secured.

A few months ago there were howls about high prices. Now that they are leveling off, there are cries of depression.—Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas.

Education Committee to make immediate recommendations to relieve the overcrowded elementary situation and to propose a plan of action to meet the future building needs of this area.

Michigan Happenings In Washington

By Esther Tufty
Michiganians in Washington don't get together often, but when they do it's apt to be anything from a formal banquet to a moonlight cruise down the Potomac.
This fall season of the Michigan State Society will open on October 5th with a new variety of entertainment . . . a congressional breakfast! At 8:30 o'clock, if you please. That should keep the crowd small. To make it easy for the 17 congressmen to be there, it's to be held at the new Congressional Hotel, right behind their own office buildings.
No speeches . . . at least before breakfast coffee . . . is the promise of the first woman president of the club, Mrs. Wendell Lund, formerly of Escanaba.
Saw Senator Homer Ferguson at a party given by "Jack" Schaefer of Detroit on the eve of the President's regatta speedboat race in which the Michigan "breadman" had two entries—Such Crust I (which won last year) and Such Crust II. The party was more of a success than the race, called off because a storm made racing too dangerous.

The senator, whom I had last seen with Mrs. Ferguson at the villa of our American Minister, Avra Warren, in Finland was still talking about those Finnish baths.
All the Finns living in the Upper Peninsula, many of whom have American version "saunas," would be proud that their senator stayed in a "very hot one" for nearly three quarters of an hour. Even the biting salty cold of the Baltic Sea felt good as a finale to that roasting from the damp heat and the beatings with birch twigs.

Orthopedic Clinic Is Scheduled Here On Sept. 29 and 30

An orthopedic clinic has been scheduled at Escanaba Junior high school Sept. 29-30, conducted by Doctors A. R. Elzinga of Marquette and M. Snyder of Grand Rapids, it was announced today.
The clinic is sponsored by the Michigan Crippled Children's commission with the cooperation of the local Crippled Children's Society and the state health department.
The examining physicians will bring their own staff, but lay health volunteers will be supplied by the Delta county lay health committee under the direction of Mrs. C. L. Riegel of Escanaba.
It was reported from the Delta-Menominee district health office that 157 appointments have been made so far. New cases may be referred to the clinic only upon recommendation of the patient's physician.

Drama Ticket Sale Begins

Three Plays Will Be Presented

Season tickets for the Civic Drama Guild series of three plays to be presented in Escanaba this fall and winter went on sale this week and a brisk initial response was reported.

Tickets are available from members of the Escanaba Lions club, which is sponsoring the series, and at Gust Asp's store. Mail orders are being handled by John Stoll, 107 South Seventh street.

All series tickets will include reserved seats from the choicest sections of the William W. Oliver auditorium.

The three plays to be presented here in the series are "Peg o' My Heart" on October 27, "The Heir-esses" on Jan. 28 and "Fair and Warmer" on May 14. All will be presented by talented Broadway casts.

The Civic Drama Guild series will be presented in Escanaba exclusively in the Upper Peninsula. Closest cities in which the series will be offered are Green Bay and Traverse City. It is the plan of the Escanaba Lions club to sponsor the drama series annually and club members are working busily to make this first series an unqualified success to guarantee its continuance.

Handicapped Need Aid, Says Shipman

Marquette, Mich. — Handicapped workers need help, but once selectively placed on jobs they can do the work required of them, Joseph H. Shipman, vocational rehabilitation agent for the Upper Peninsula told the Kiwanis club yesterday at its meeting in the Clifton hotel.

Shipman explained briefly what is being done for the vocationally handicapped in Michigan, and what the state rehabilitation agency is doing to aid them.

"We try to serve any mentally or physically handicapped person in Michigan who qualifies for service," he said. "We work closely with the Morgan Heights sanatorium."

Plan Fete For Don Cossacks

Legion Entertains Here Sept. 28

The Don Cossacks Chorus and Dancers, now on their 20th annual tour of the United States, will be guests of the American Legion here next Wednesday night, Sept. 28, following their appearance in concert at W. W. Oliver memorial auditorium in Escanaba Junior high school.

Coming to Escanaba from Marquette, the Don Cossacks are opening their 1949-50 season following a successful concert tour of Europe. Their scheduled appearance in Escanaba has been welcomed by those who have heard them before, for music lovers have acclaimed the chorus wherever it appears.

The committee in charge of the concert announced today that tickets can be obtained at the following places: Gust Asp, West End Drugs, Garrard Jewelers, American Legion club rooms, Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and the Delta Music Center.

In planning an after-concert entertainment for the Don Cossacks, the Cloverland Post of the American Legion is providing an opportunity for Legionnaires and their friends to meet the members of the chorus at an open house in Legion club rooms. Many members of the Don Cossacks are members of the American Legion.

Claude Tobin, Jr., Legion post commander, said plans are being made for an informal gathering to honor the chorus. A buffet lunch will be served.

Former Escanaba Man Appointed To N. U. Alumni Post

G. Willard King, who formerly lived in Escanaba, has been appointed secretary of Northwestern University's Alumni Century Fund and secretary of the Alumni Association. Announcement of the appointment was made today by the board of directors of the Alumni association.

King has served as secretary of the Alumni Century Fund since April, 1947, but this appointment brings both that job and that of alumni secretary under his direction. Its purpose is to co-ordinate alumni activities for Northwestern's centennial celebration in 1951.

A graduate of Northwestern's School of Journalism in 1937, King worked with the Decatur Herald-Review, Decatur, Ill., the Detroit Times, and the American Aviation Associates, who put out a aviation publication, before joining Northwestern's staff.

Judge Sharpe Now Heads Odd Fellows Of World

More than a million and a half members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows scattered throughout the world now look to the Hon. Edward M. Sharpe of Bay City, Michigan as the titular head of the entire Order following his installation as sovereign Grand Master at an impressive ceremony Wednesday evening (September 21) during the sessions of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the world in Sacramento, California.

As Sovereign Grand Master, he is the presiding officer and the chief executive of the Sovereign Grand Lodge which is unique among fraternal orders in that it is the supreme authority over all branches of the fraternity throughout the world. 111 Cedar StreetIndian Lake State Park
Host To 44,893 In 1949

A total number of 44,893 people used the facilities afforded by Indian Lake state park in the season just past, according to a compilation of the park registry made a few days ago by Victor J. Haas, park manager. This is an increase of 4,117 over the same period Mr. Haas states.

There was also a marked increase in the number of camping permits issued, the number for the current season being 1886 or 439 more than last year.

The camping area was filled to capacity during the months of July and August and several times the demand for facilities was so great that it was necessary to allow visitors to set up camp in the picnic area.

New facilities offered campers this year were hot showers and laundry and a screened in fish cleaning house. Many campers, says Mr. Haas, commented on the friendliness of the people of Manistique and surrounding communities.

The park will remain open until the first of October. At that time it will become necessary to turn off the water to prevent freezing. Tables, stoves and playground equipment will be stored until next season.

Mrs. M. DeVroye
Dies WednesdayFuneral Services To Be Held Saturday

Mrs. Mittie DeVroye, 74, long a resident of Hiawatha township, died Wednesday morning at her home following an illness of about seven months.

Mrs. DeVroye was born in Alameda, Ont., on July 26, 1875 and came to this country with her family when she was a child of about five. The family settled in Thompson and she lived there until her marriage, in Manistique, to John DeVroye, on March 6, 1895.

Mrs. DeVroye was a member of the First Methodist church and for many years was active in its ladies' aid. She was also a member of the Goodwill club.

Surviving her are a son, Hubert, Manistique; two daughters, Mrs. Vera Davidson, Cooks; and Mrs. Irene Donaldson, Detroit; two brothers, Vernon and Benjamin in Dixon, Manistique; two sisters, Mrs. Leah LaPine, Kalamazoo and Miss Myrtle Dixon, Canada; ten grandchildren, three of whom—Susan, Gene and Jerome Allen have resided with her since 1938—and three great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the Morton Funeral Home with the Rev. John Safran officiating. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

Garbage Is Topic
At Special Meet
Of City Council

Members of the Manistique city council devoted several hours of a special meeting Tuesday evening discussing what should be incorporated in a city ordinance regarding the hauling of garbage.

The purpose of the new ordinance is the relief from demands for this service on the part of the public. Sponsors of the ordinance complained that several business places turn over huge quantities of garbage and refuse for collection and that this constituted a burden which the city should not have to bear.

Changes in the handling of garbage suggested at the meeting would have city collections confined to garbage alone to the exclusion of bottles, leaves, ashes, magazines and discarded clothing which now constitute the bulk of the matter hauled out by the truck to the city dump.

Objection to this change was made to the effect that this would encourage people to resume the practice of dumping rubbish along the roadsides and on vacant lots.

No conclusions were arrived at this meeting.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Joseph Mercier, who passed away two years ago today, September 22, 1947.

There is an open gate at the end of the road
Through which each must go alone
And there is a light we cannot see.

Our Father claims His own
Beyond the gate we loved one
Finds happiness and rest
And there is comfort in the thought.

That a loving God knows best.

Off The Chest...

By JAY ARRELL

A number of important events are in the offing. They have been publicized widely and the public should be well aware of them by this time, but there is always that possibility that their importance is being overlooked. For that reason they are being incorporated in this column as big events on the local calendar.

First and foremost is the appearance on Saturday evening at the high school auditorium of the Don Cossacks, an entertainment sponsored and promoted by the Manistique Music Association for the one and only purpose of providing the ultimate best for local lovers of music.

"One of the leading music organizations of the country" has come to be a much overworked phrase. Many entertainments exploited as great and wonderful fall down in the final analysis, but the Don Cossacks are definitely great. There is no form of entertainment quite like it. To be present at this entertainment will be an experience that will long be cherished.

The Manistique Music Association in booking this company, has assumed a responsibility of serious proportions. The concert is an expensive one. The association has assumed similar responsibilities in the past—when it brought the Chicago String Ensemble, the Women's Symphony Orchestra, the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra and others—and in some cases the members had to dig down to pay a deficit. They are certainly worthy of wholehearted support from the community.

Monday evening the Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, of the Central Methodist Church of Detroit will address a dinner meeting at the high school gymnasium. Dr. Crane is rated as a brilliant orator and the ladies of the First Methodist church of Manistique, who are sponsoring the event, are more interested in a good attendance than in financial gain. As the Rev. John Safran, local Methodist pastor stated a few days ago, "Not all ministers can qualify as orators, but Dr. Crane is recognized as one of the top-notch speakers of the country."

Friday night is "Booster Night" for the Manistique high school football team, when Manistique meets Gladstone. The high school youngsters are having a big paw wow tonight when the traditional snake dance, bon fire and speechafian will take place. It will be lots of fun. But Coach John Viergever is wrestling with a very serious problem. The team met some very rough going at Negaunee last week and some of the boys on whom the coach had placed most reliance will be out of Friday's game with injuries. Under such a handicap the youngsters will need all the encouragement they can get. A lot of freshmen and sophomores will receive their "baptism of fire" in this game. They may show up surprisingly well and then again they may not. At any rate a great deal depends on the encouragement they get from the crowd in the stadium. Don't let them down.

Are you going to donate blood for the local blood bank? The mobile plasma unit will be stationed at the Presbyterian church Monday afternoon between the hours of one to three and five to seven. Every pint of blood collected will be reserved for local emergency needs and every donor is a potential life saver. The process of extracting the blood is painless and there will be no harmful after effects. People needing this plasma will receive it without cost.

Rialto Bldg.Free Rides For Blood DonorsOthers Are Urged To Cooperate

Persons wishing rides to the high school to contribute blood to the plasma program either today or Friday will be given free transportation by the City Cab company.

All they need to do is phone 2131 and a cab will pick them up and later return them to their home. Because of the time element, only persons living in Gladstone can be accommodated, Mrs. Oscar Sederberg, operator of the cab firm, said.

There is still room for donors at the local clinic and unregistered persons willing to give a pint of their blood to the worthy program may just report at the high school anytime during the following days and hours. Today, 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p. m., and Friday, 1-3 and 5-7 p. m.

A competent staff from the Michigan State Health department takes the blood and each prospective donor has been checked for temperature, blood pressure, hemoglobin count and general medical history.

Actual giving of the blood requires only about 5 minutes and is painless. A snack to refresh each donor is provided at the canteen afterwards.

Blood obtained is immediately placed under refrigeration and shipped to the lower peninsula for processing into plasma. This lifesaving fluid is later returned to this county for use without charge as long as it lasts.

The Gladstone quota is 200. Thus far only 65 persons have registered.

Pvt. Andy Gaus
To Participate In Army Maneuvers

Fort Lewis, Wash.—Pvt. Andy A. Gaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gaus, Route 1, Gladstone, has been assigned to Hq and Hq company, 23rd Infantry Regiment, and is continuing training for "Exercise Miki", the forthcoming Hawaiian maneuvers.

The joint Army, Navy, and Marine maneuvers will be spearheaded by some 16,000 Fort Lewis soldiers who will land on the island of Oahu late in October.

The object of the operation, the largest peacetime maneuver involving U. S. based troops since before World War II, is the so-called recapture of Oahu from more than 12,000 "Aggressor" soldiers, sailors, and Marines, who are presumed to have captured the island previously.

Since training in amphibious operations is a primary objective of the maneuver, 2nd Infantry Division troops from Fort Lewis are undergoing training in combat loading, shipboard discipline, assault landings, beachhead supply, and amphibious communications. All troops embarking on this maneuver will be required to pass tests in swimming and the use of landing nets.

Following completion of the Oahu maneuvers, soldiers of the Second Division will have time off to visit points of interest in Hawaii. They will return to Fort Lewis before Christmas.

Nation's Business To Carry Fishing Story

Cleland Van Dresser, free lance writer of Palm Beach, Fla., came to Escanaba today on a tour of the Great Lakes to gather material for an article on commercial fishing for Nation's Business, official publication of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. He was accompanied by Spencer M. Bower, fisheries division, Michigan Conservation department, Lansing.

Van Dresser has written several articles on the sea lamprey menace for national publications. One of the stories will appear in Popular Mechanics in the near future.

This was his second visit to Escanaba. He came here about ten years ago to do a story on the national birling tournament. Discussing the commercial fishing situation, Bower said that records in the Lansing office show a great increase in walleye production in the last three or four years. The commercial catch is several times the pre-war harvest of walleyes in Green bay waters. Most of this spring's catches were younger fish, indicating a decline in the walleye population, he pointed out.

enrollments. "It is always a precarious thing to attempt to make any type of statistical estimate on another man's home area; however, I believe that the information which the Michigan Department of Health has at its disposal allows them to make the soundest prognostication on the subject of population changes," Ballert reports.

Until the federal census is taken next year it will not be known whether the U. P. has lost population, gained, or has been at a standstill. Meanwhile the health department figures are causing considerable discussion among those counties that have been reported as losing population.

It will be noted in the estimates that four counties—Alger, Chippewa, Luce and Schoolcraft—have made population gains. Schoolcraft had the slightest gain, only 4 per cent, and Luce the highest, a full 20 per cent.

The population estimates by counties and the U. P. total is as follows:

County	1948	1940	Change
Alger	10,479	10,167	3.1

Baraga	8,896	9,356	-4.9
Chippewa	28,246	27,807	1.6

Gogebic	26,702	31,797	-16.0
Houghton	40,435	47,631	-15.1
Iron	17,064	20,243	-15.7
Keweenaw	3,175	4,004	-20.7
Luce	8,911	7,423	20.0
